

START HERE

Fold outward at line A while keeping this text visible:

Fold inward at line B so the triangles meet:

1. Our story begins: Peter and Paul were two men who had just died; they met walking up the stairs to the Gates of Heaven. It was there that each would either be judged worthy of Heaven or be sent to Hell.

2. Peter had always been a good fellow and had little to fear. But Paul was getting nervous. As they were walking up the stairs, Paul noticed something in Peter's hand. "What's that?" he said.

jmaloney@alum.mit.edu
john.maloney.org

Over line D so the squares meet.

Fold inward at line C so the circles meet:

5: So Peter tore off another third of the ticket for Paul. (You'll make this second cut in a later step as well.)

4. A few steps later, Paul had become more nervous still. "You still have more than I do!" he cried.

8. When Paul saw where he was going, he blanched. "I got the pieces from him!" he howled, pointing to Peter. "Wherever I go, he goes too!" Michael turned to Peter. "Is this true? Unfold your piece and let's take a look at it."

Unfold Peter's piece... (end)

3. "It's my ticket to Heaven," Peter joked. (In fact, it was the piece of paper you are folding right now.) "Let me have it—I need it more than you," demanded Paul. "Tell you what: I'll tear off a piece for you," said Peter, and he did. (You'll make this cut in a later step.)

6. At last they reached the gates, where the Archangel Michael sat waiting. "Here's my ticket to heaven!" Paul cried, and held out the pieces.

Now cut along line E

7. "What is this mess?" the angel said. "Unfold those scraps and put them together." (Before you do any unfolding, make the next cut.)

Now cut along line F

First unfold and arrange the other two pieces (Paul's pieces) into a word.* Then turn this folded piece over.

*john.maloney.org/
peterandpaul.htm

Peter's piece
Paul's 2nd piece
Paul's 1st piece